COMPLETE SECURITY SOLUTIONS

Exceptional. Without Exception.

EXECUTIVE PROTECTION | PROTECTIVE SURVEILLANCE
RESIDENTIAL SECURITY | SECURITY RISK MANAGEMENT

The background makes the difference.

Exceptional backgrounds translate to early threat detection, thorough advance planning and decisive action under pressure - delivered with discretion.

01 / MILITARY

Specialist military foundations.

Our operatives are drawn from premier military units, including the Royal Marines, the UK Special Forces group and other elite regiments worldwide. They bring disciplined preparation, practical contingency planning and adaptability under pressure.

02 / SPECIAL OPERATIONS POLICING

Judgement under pressure.

Special Operations policing experience, including Counter-Terrorism, hostage rescue and covert surveillance, informs rapid assessment and sound decisions in demanding environments where the margin for error is minimal.

03 / ROYAL & GOVERNMENT

Protection at the highest level.

Experience includes protecting members of the British Royal Family, Prime Ministers, government ministers and ambassadors, alongside private families and high-profile individuals worldwide.

04 / EMT / EMR TRAINED

Protection with medical capability.

Our protection operators are EMT- or EMR-trained, bringing immediate medical assistance within their qualifications and readiness to coordinate further support when required.

INTERNATIONAL EXPERIENCE

Europe · The Americas · Africa · Asia · The Middle East

Experience reflects the professional backgrounds within Vawzen. Previous roles do not imply endorsement by military, police, government or royal organisations.

Protection for your life.
Discretion in its delivery.

01 / EXECUTIVE PROTECTION

For the life you lead.

Protection for daily life, important occasions and international travel. We match the operative to your circumstances, considering experience, temperament and the ability to fit naturally into your world.

- Dedicated personal and family protection
- Advance work, venue and journey preparation
- Protection driving and secure transport
- Travel coordination, intelligence and contingencies

02 / PROTECTIVE SURVEILLANCE

Freedom to live.

Discreet personal protection without a visibly identifiable security presence. Retain space for work, social commitments and family life, supported by operatives alert to developing concerns and ready to act.

- Discreet coverage around daily commitments
- Specialist observation and counter-surveillance
- Early recognition of developing concerns
- Protective action when circumstances require it

CAPABILITY BEFORE VISIBILITY

Protection is measured by what the team can anticipate, prevent and respond to, rather than how visible it is.

Confidence at home.
Clarity in your decisions.

03 / RESIDENTIAL SECURITY

People and property, together.

A residential site survey examines the home, its surroundings and household routines. Findings connect physical measures, technology and practical procedures into prioritised recommendations.

- Perimeter, access points, lighting, cameras and alarms
- Staff, visitors, contractors and household arrangements
- Safe areas, communication and emergency readiness

Where required, dedicated residential protection operatives safeguard both the property and family while in residence. They come from the same specialist backgrounds and meet the same standards as our executive protection teams.

04 / SECURITY RISK MANAGEMENT

Independent by design.

Understand your exposure before committing to changes. We assess credible threats, vulnerabilities and existing controls to clarify what works, where gaps remain and what should take priority.

- Threat, risk and vulnerability assessments
- Independent security reviews and documented findings
- Prioritised action plans and provider oversight

These services can be commissioned independently of personal protection. Scope and deliverables are agreed at the outset, with implementation support available where required.

William Weir

FOUNDER / MSyl, SRMC, M.ISRM

Operational judgement. Personal responsibility.

William’s background spans service as a Royal Marines Commando, the UK Special Forces group, and in Special Operations policing. He founded Vawzen Solutions to bring the judgement, preparation and discretion developed through that career to the protection of private individuals and families.

Based in Toronto, with an established UK base, Vawzen supports private clients across North America and internationally. William’s aim is to make specialist operational expertise accessible to clients at home and wherever they travel.

His philosophy is straightforward: protection should support the way people want to live. His methodology places capability ahead of presence, recognising that the true value of protection lies in the ability to anticipate, prevent and respond. It begins with understanding each client’s family, routines and concerns, then shaping proportionate measures around them. Careful preparation, discreet delivery and practical advice underpin that approach.

As founder, William takes personal responsibility for understanding each client’s priorities and setting clear expectations from the outset. The aim is a lasting relationship built on trust, sound judgement and confidence in the people providing protection.
